

103^D CONGRESS
2^D SESSION

H. J. RES. 392

Designating September 5, 1994, Labor Day, as “Try American Day”.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 22, 1994

Mr. COX (for himself, Mr. TRAFICANT, and Mr. GOODLING) introduced the following joint resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service

JOINT RESOLUTION

Designating September 5, 1994, Labor Day, as “Try American Day”.

Whereas the creativity and ingenuity of American working men and women in the United States have provided a host of new products and services which improve the quality of life in the United States and the world;

Whereas American workers should be recognized as one of our Nation’s most valuable resources;

Whereas the American spirit of entrepreneurship, pride of craftsmanship, and commitment to quality are hallmarks recognized throughout the world;

Whereas the United States and its citizens have reason to celebrate the strength and quality of American products and services;

Whereas the quality and abundance of American goods are a tribute to the productivity and ability of American workers;

Whereas the ability of American companies to export, even in the face of strong trade barriers in many countries, is a sign of the true competitiveness of American products;

Whereas American farmers and ranchers provide this country and the world with a wide array of high quality food and fiber products and consistently create annual agricultural trade surpluses of more than $20,000,000,000;

Whereas the energy and perseverance of American business serves as a beacon for other nations that strive to ensure prosperity for their people; and

Whereas American small business provides a basis for economic progress and for the creation of jobs and opportunities for people from every corner of America: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives
 2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
 3 That September 5, 1994, Labor Day, is designated as
 4 “Try American Day”, and the President is authorized and
 5 requested to issue a proclamation calling on the people of
 6 the United States to observe the day with appropriate
 7 ceremonies and activities and to honor the day through
 8 the purchase of American-made goods and services.
